

Personal Webpage Responsibility Acknowledgement

Summary

This article outlines the responsibilities of users, including employees, students, and faculty, who create and maintain personal webpages to ensure that the content is appropriate, accurate, and accessible to all users.

Body

Context

In order to publish or maintain a personal webpage, and in addition to the technical requirements described in Article – How to Setup Your Home Page \(Personal Webpage\), each user must acknowledge their personal responsibility for the compliance and upkeep of their personal webpage. Users must provide this acknowledgement by completing the designated Microsoft Forms process.

Scope

This acknowledgement applies to all faculty, staff, and students who create and manage personal webpages on the University of Texas at Dallas network or using its resources.

Content Responsibility

By publishing or maintaining a personal webpage, users acknowledge that they are solely responsible for all content they post. This includes ensuring information is accurate, up-to-date, and relevant. Users further acknowledge that they must not publish content that is illegal, offensive, or in violation of University of Texas at Dallas policies, including but not limited to those concerning harassment, discrimination, and intellectual property.

Accessibility

Users must ensure that their personal webpages are accessible to all individuals, including those with disabilities. This includes adhering to web accessibility standards such as the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG). Users should provide alternative text for images, ensure that their webpages are navigable using keyboard-only navigation, and use appropriate color contrasts.

Privacy and Security

Users acknowledge that they must protect individuals' privacy by not disclosing personal information without consent. Users also acknowledge the need to implement reasonable security measures to protect their webpages from unauthorized access or cyber threats.

Compliance

Users acknowledge their obligation to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and university policies when creating and maintaining their personal webpages. The University of Texas at Dallas reserves the right to review and remove content that violates these requirements.

Accountability

Users acknowledge that they are accountable for any consequences resulting from the content they publish. Users should regularly review and update their webpages to ensure ongoing compliance with these responsibilities.

Enforcement

Failure to uphold the responsibilities acknowledged in this document may result in the removal of the personal webpage.

Related Articles

Related Articles (3)

CGI Under Your Own Home Page (Personal Webpage)

This article has instructions to set up CGI for your personal web pages.

How to Setup Your Home Page (Personal Webpage)

This article provides instructions on how to setup and begin configuration of your personal webpage.

Personal Webpage Troubleshooting

The Office of Information Technology UNIX group has provided a simple script that will fix permissions on all of the files in your public_html folder at once. Users will be able to fix their permissions issues with the instructions provided in this article.

Related Services / Offerings

Related Services / Offerings (1)

UTD Hosted Personal Webpages

UTD provides hosting for personal webpages for all current students, faculty, and staff at UT Dallas.